

Columbia Law School

U.S. Business Law Academy

July 6—July 23, 2027

On the campus of Columbia University in the City of New York

Columbia Law School invites applications to its U.S. Business Law Academy. The program, designed for students but open to practitioners and others as well, offers an engaging educational and cultural experience with select topics in U.S. legal institutions and business law taught by preeminent scholars from Columbia and other world-renowned institutions.

The Academy offers an accessible introduction to the Socratic Method, one of the foundations of U.S. legal education, as well as presentations about U.S. legal education and Columbia Law School.

The program also includes practice-oriented lectures by prominent attorneys, networking events with fellow participants, and time to visit cultural sites in New York City. Overall, the Academy is excellent preparation for those considering furthering their studies in a leading global graduate program.

Upon successful completion of the program, participants in the non-credit course receive an official Certificate of Participation. The program fee is $7,000, and optional housing is available for $2,500. Discounts are available for early applicants and affiliates of partner schools, as well as former students and those referred by them.
